Voting and Registering to Vote

How do I register to vote?

Normal voting registration is done with the Cache County Clerk at 179 North Main, Logan, Utah 84321 (755-1460). They are open Mondays through Thursdays 7:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. except holidays.

Registering to Vote for a particular election is suspended at the County Clerk's office twenty days prior to an election date to establish the eligible voters for that election. After that time you may still have an opportunity to register at specified satellite locations on certain days. There are usually only two days set aside to do this between when registering is suspended and the election. Contact the Cache County Clerk to find out where and when you can register to vote.

When are the Elections?

Election days vary depending upon the type of election.

Municipal elections are held in odd-number years on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November and the associated primary municipal elections are held (if required) on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in October.

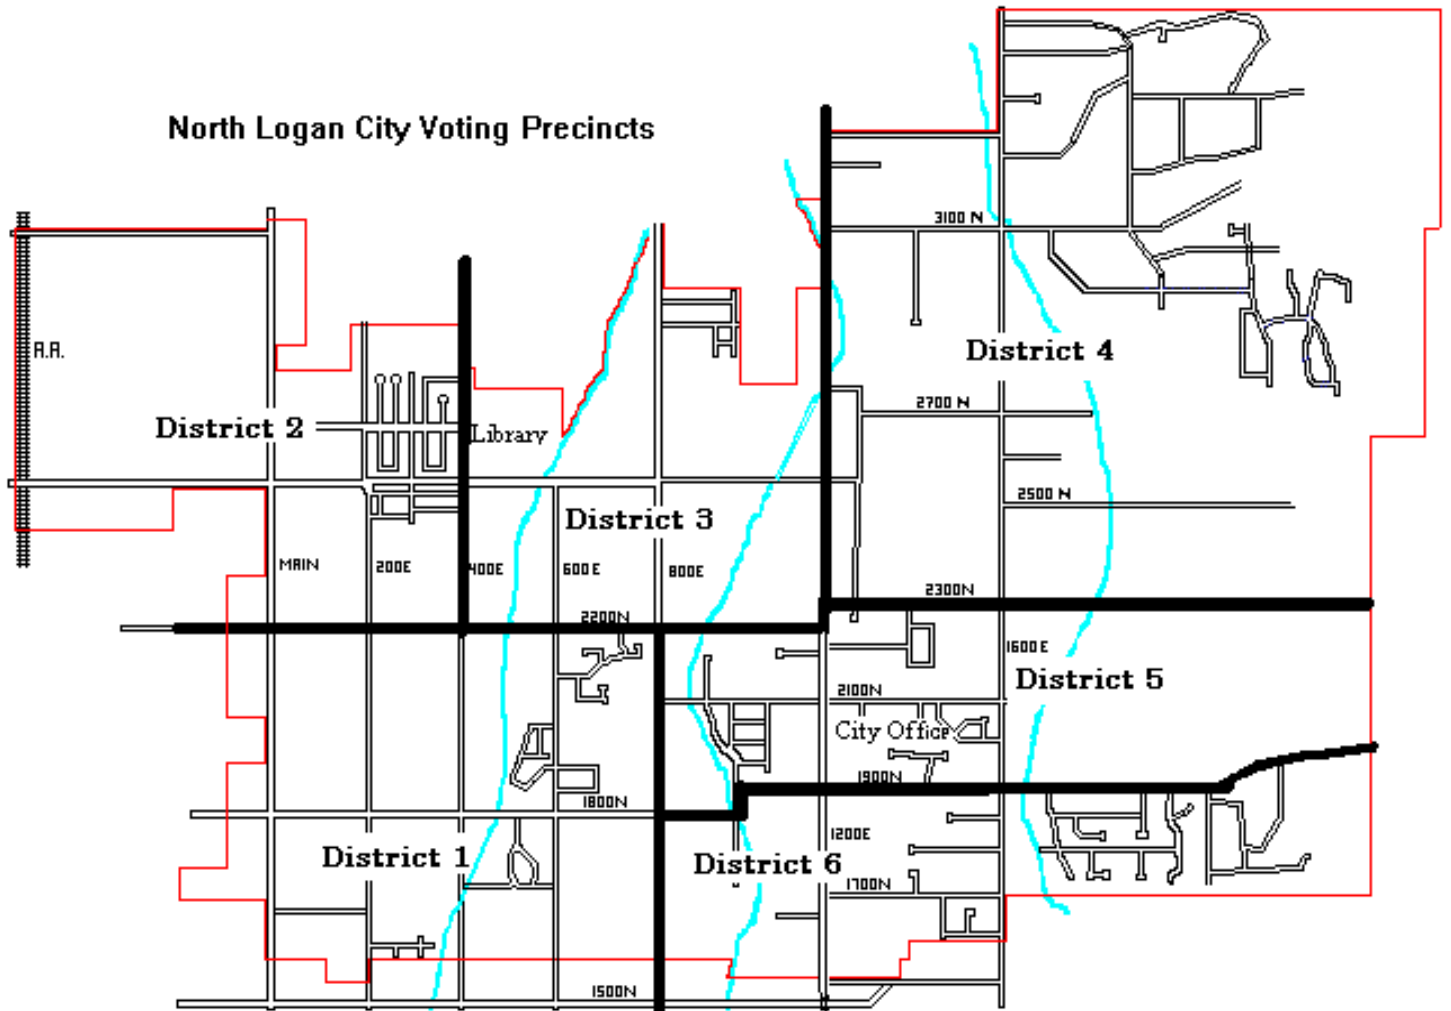

Regular general elections are held in even-number years on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. The associated primary elections are held on the fourth Tuesday in June in even-number years.

Other elections may be required from time to time.

All elections are supposed to be adequately advertised to the public. North Logan usually does this in the Herald Journal.
